

Windowsill

The solid oak window sill is made from carefully selected oak, providing high strength, durability, and the natural beauty of wood. Its natural texture and warm oak tone add elegance to any interior.

The sturdy surface of the windowsill withstands daily use and the placement of items, while the smoothly sanded edges make it safe and pleasant to touch.

An ideal solution for any interior style, it highlights the window and creates a cozy atmosphere in your space.

The product can be custom-made according to your provided drawings and technical specifications, with the flexibility to combine elements and adjust shapes and dimensions. Due to the natural structure of oak, the wood grain may differ from the photo, as each piece has its own unique and unrepeatable pattern.
